TELLS THE STORY OF A MURDER.

An Old Miser Was Killed for His Money.

SALT LAKE, February 1.—A murder mystery of seven years' standing is believed by the police to have been cleared up by the arrest and confession of George W. Munzy, 67 years old. Two other men, Abe Hunter of Salt Lake and John Rice of Grantsville, Utah, are implicated by Munzy and are under arrest.

The crime of which the men are accused is the murder in February, 1897, of Fred Butler, in a hotel on South Temple street. Butler had the reputation of being a miser and possessed of considerable money, and the murder is supposed to have been committed for the purpose of robbery.

SMALL BOY SOLD RAILROAD TICKETS.

Leo Sparks, a boy 9 years of age, residing with his parents at 878 Lydia street, was selling railroad tickets at Lafayette School today. Principal Keyes, on discovering this fact, called the boy before him and found that he had $125 worth of railroad tickets in his possession. The boy said that he found them behind a barn. The railroad company was communicated with and is now investigating the matter.

It is thought that these tickets may be a portion of about $300 worth which were stolen about two months ago in Alameda. Two weeks ago $300 worth of tickets were found at Fourteenth and Market streets, in a doorway, and it is possible that the tickets in possession of the boy were thrown away by the same person who discarded the $300 worth.

The total licenses issued for the month amounted to $11,448.40.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., February 1.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the judgment of the lower court, which found Fred Lewis, alias Fred Collins, the Union Bank robber, who, with William Rudolph, murdered Charles J. Schumacher, a Pinkerton detective, in resisting arrest in January, 1903, guilty of murder in the first degree and fixed March 15th as the date of his execution. Rudolph escaped from the St. Louis prison and is still a fugitive from justice.

In the first report to the police a number of articles were included in the loss. The police have no clue as to who the burglar was.

INSULT TO UNITED STATES. TO PROBE BRIBERY CHARGE.

Cubans Throw Mud on Senator Dietrich Will Be Given a Full Investigation.

HAVANA, February 1.—United States Minister Squiers has called the attention of the Cuban government to the actions of rioters at Cienfuegos, who, continuing the riots which broke out as the result of the elections of registers on the previous day, yesterday vented their ill-feeling by flinging mud upon the United States consulate hanging over the entrance of the United States consulate, practically covering the escutcheon with mud and filth.

Consul Bahr protested to the local authorities and notified Minister Squiers.

The Minister today called on President Palma and made representations that the Cienfuegos authorities should not content themselves with an apology, but should apprehend and punish the perpetrators of the insult.

The president said he deeply regretted the incident, and added that he would issue directions that the culprits be arrested and punished.

DECISION REVERSED.

DONOHUE ON TRIAL.

The second trial of Edward Donohue of Livermore, charged by Charles O'Brien with having taken two shots at him was begun today before Judge Hall and a jury. Donohue is accused of assault with a deadly weapon and upon his first trial the jury failed to arrive at a verdict. O'Brien worked for Donohue on his ranch near Livermore and one night after both men had been drinking together, Donohue attacked and shot at him twice and then making him hold up his hands turned him over to the constable and had him locked up for the night.

Donohue claims that he found O'Brien in his barn and fired at him in self-defense.

OBTAINED MONEY BY FALSE PRETENSES.

CASE REVERSED.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 1.—The decision of the lower court in the suit of Samuel S. Moffitt against the United States was today reversed by the Circuit Court of Appeals. The master of the tugboat and brought one R. Marquez, a Mexican, to this port. Marquez sailed by mistake, having boarded the vessel with intention to leave before sailing. When he arrived here he wanted to go back to the tugboat. The lower court held that he was an immigrant within the meaning of the law.

The sire of the good stake horse Fossil has got his owner into a lot of trouble on account of his alleged viciousness. Papers in a suit transferred today from the Superior Court of Humboldt County to the courts here set forth that William Rolley bought the stallion "Fossil" at Haywards from George Gray with the guarantee that the horse was sound, gentle and free from vice.

The action alleges he was none of these and that on account of his viciousness the plaintiff has been injured to the extent of $1,100. Rolley says the horse was originally paid $650 for and was on account of these traits he is unfit for the purpose for which he purchased him. The deal was consummated in January a year ago.

LEASE SECURED OF CORNER STORE IN BACON BLOCK ON TWELFTH STREET.

The firm of Osgood Brothers, the up-to-date druggists, whose elegant store for years has done a thriving business on the northeast corner of Broadway and Seventh street, has rented for five years, the store in the new Bacon block at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Washington streets. This store has a frontage on Washington street of 32 feet and on Twelfth street of 80 feet. This place will be used as a branch of the present store at the corner of Seventh and Broadway, and will be fitted up in a most elaborate manner, involving an expenditure of $10,000, and will be supplied with a full assortment of the finest drugs and standard preparations. It will be under the special direction of F. S. Osgood, who will also devote some of his time, with his brother, E. J. Osgood, in the management of the Broadway store of the firm. The rental of the new store will be $500 per month. The firm has been given an option of renewal of the lease at the end of five years. F. S. Osgood says that, so far as he knows, this rental of the new store, based on floor space, paid in this city. In the conduct of the new store, there will be associated with the firm, E. J. Miller and E. M. McKinlay, both of whom have been connected with the firm for a number of years. The firm says that its new move has not been made by a desire to meet competition but to accommodate a number of its customers by serving them in the heart of the retail district. Several other changes are soon to be made in the same section of the up-town business district. One of these is that of the dry goods house of P. Flynn, which for years, has been located in the Canby block, on Broadway and Twelfth street. The Flynn store adjoins the Osgood store to the westward. Hereafter it will also be located in the Bacon block, where two stores have been hewn into one spacious apartment, having a frontage of between 40 and 50 feet on Twelfth street almost opposite the Lyric theater. This apartment is not yet ready for occupancy, but pending the work of fitting up the place, the Flynn stock will be transferred to the former quarters of the Women's Exchange at the northwest corner of Franklin and Twelfth streets, where business will be in full operation.

From the Butters' block, also, E. P. Taylor is moving his stock of stationery which, heretofore, occupied the store at 1111 Broadway. He has not, as yet, secured other quarters and will store his stock in the Canby block. Taylor is a business man who meets with his approval. Mr. Taylor will be succeeded at the Osgood store by E. J. Miller, who is in photographic supplies, of 512-514 Thirteenth street.

MEASLES RAGING AT SCHOOL.

BERKELEY, February 1.—Measles is becoming epidemic among the pupils of the Berkeley High School and so great has been the progress of the malady that the attendance at the school is seriously affected. It has been found that pupils who have the disease in their family have been attending the school until it is now believed by the physicians that all pupils must have a general run through the school.

Fearing that their children will contract measles, a number of parents are keeping their children out of school until the time of contagion has passed. This is the first time that a measles scare has visited the school for several years.

WIFE SUFFERED.

While A. Gonsalves, a farmer of Irvington paid his own fine in order to escape going to the County Jail two weeks upon a conviction of battery he allowed his wife, Anastasio Gonsalves to take her punishment in an offense in which they both were adjudged guilty. She was liberated this morning after having served time from January 14 in order to save having to pay a $25 fine.

The Gonsalves were convicted of having severely beaten a passerby who attacked their children for calling him names. Gonsalves was first charged with an assault with a deadly weapon for having used a pitchfork in his attack. This charge however was afterwards changed to one of battery. Husband and wife were both convicted and sentenced to serve fifteen days in the County Jail or pay a fine of $20.

He paid his fine but allowed his wife to serve her sentence.

DRAWING IT FINE.

The Supreme Court of Minnesota has reversed the conviction of A. A. Ames, former Mayor of Minneapolis, because he was indicted for one offense when he had in fact committed another. That he was clearly guilty of accepting bribes from fallen women to afford them immunity from arrest in pursuing their miserable occupation was cheerfully admitted by the court, but the learned judge could not bear to have even so rank a scoundrel punished because the District Attorney who drew the indictment did not properly describe the offense of which he was guilty in the proper technical terms. This fine distinction is a parallel to the objection a Texas man made to being lynched. He said he had stolen cattle instead of horses and the custom of the country was to lynch horse thieves and send cattle thieves to the penitentiary by judicial process. The lynchers overruled the objection on the ground that it didn't really matter whether it was horses or cattle that were stolen.

In the Ames case it was conclusively proved that the defendant controlled the police force; that members of the police collected money from women of the street pledging protection in return; that this money was paid over to Ames; that the women who paid it were in fact immune from arrest. That would seem definite enough for all reasonable purposes.

But it was not shown that the Mayor personally received the money from the women or that he ever personally promised them protection, or ever instructed the police to give them protection. This could only have been established by confession on the part of the Mayor and his tools. The broad fact that the women were promised protection, paid the money, were protected and the fact that the Mayor indisputably got the money went for naught in the minds of the Court. Judges not infrequently find it very difficult to ascertain whether a thing or act is proved. In this case the Court found that the guilt of the defendant was clearly established but that the technical offense charged was not conclusively proved. Here's a metaphysical distinction that would delight Domine Sampson. But it is a kind of pea-and-shell logic that would be better employed in a school of sophistry than a court of law.

The announcement that Senator Quay is in favor of sending an unpledged delegation to the Republican convention is not without its humor. An unpledged delegation is one Senator Quay can hand over to anybody he chooses whenever he chooses. What you call a thing doesn't always describe it, you see.

RUBBISHY FOREIGN TITLES.

When Mr. Blaine sat in the Cabinet of President Harrison it became the fashion to call the Secretary of State the Premier. Now some silly newspapers have begun to call Secretary Hay the Minister of Foreign Affairs. This is but another manifestation of the habit into which some Americans have fallen of aping foreign titles and manners.

There is no place in the American government for a prime minister or premier. The word premier means first or head, and in diplomatic parlance applies to the dominating and directing head of a ministry. The dominating and directing head of the President's Cabinet is the President himself. No other member of the Cabinet has any authority over all the departments of the government, such as the prime ministers of foreign nations exercise. Each member of the Cabinet presides over the affairs of his special department and reports in person to the President. In England the several ministers report to the prime minister.

Neither is the Secretary of State the ranking member of the Cabinet by virtue of his position. Leadership in the Cabinet is determined by personal force and ability and by the exigency or condition of the time. Sometimes the Secretary of State has been the leading member of the Cabinet, sometimes the Secretary of the Treasury and sometimes the Secretary of War. Alexander Hamilton took the foremost position in Washington's Cabinet because of the fiscal necessities of the government and because Hamilton's abilities were of the commanding order. During the last Administration of Monroe, John Quincy Adams took the lead as Secretary of State. This was partly due to native force and partly to the exigencies of the time. When Jackson was President, the fiscal question and the United States Bank issue again brought the Secretary of the Treasury to the fore, but foreign questions in the two succeeding Administrations gave special prominence to the head of the State Department.

When Polk, a mediocre man, became President, Robert J. Walker took the center of the stage as Secretary of the Treasury, although the country almost immediately entered upon a foreign war. That was because Walker practiced tically dictated the tariff legislation of the Polk Administration and outlined the revenue policy which the Democratic party has stood for ever since.

During the Civil War Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War, was the chief figure in a Cabinet containing such great men as Salmon P. Chase, William H. Seward and Montgomery Blair. Here again the force of personality and national exigency combined placed the man at the front. As soon as the war closed, foreign complications engrossed public attention and Seward became the Cabinet leader.

Personal talent and fiscal exigency made Sherman easily foremost when he was Secretary of the Treasury. Questions of foreign policy again brought the State Department into chief importance since Secretary Hay has been at its head, and again has it proved that the exigencies of the time have found the man in office equipped to grapple with them. Hay will rank among the greatest of our Cabinet officers.

But Secretary Hay is not a prime minister or a minister of foreign affairs. He is the most prominent member of the Cabinet because the business of his department is just now the most important. In no sense is he the head of the Cabinet, and in no sense does he control the policy of the other departments. The President alone does that.

Leap-frog promotion in the army promotes more bad feeling than good discipline. It is hard to tell which causes the most trouble, some officers kissing other officers' wives or the jumping of some officers over the heads of other officers.

FATHER YORK'S REPLY.

Rev. P. C. York vigorously combats the opinion expressed by THE TRIBUNE to the effect that the Gaelic language can never be restored to its ancient place among the living forms of ordinary speech and sharply challenges certain incidental statements not vital to the point at issue.

It is quite natural that Father York should hold a view contrary to the one expressed in these columns, for he is the acknowledged leader of the Celtic revival movement on the Pacific Coast and is an ardent advocate of the Irish returning again to the language of their fathers. While sympathizing with the sentimental yearnings, the race pride and the patriotic impulses which inspire Father York, we fail to find his reasoning convincing or his prognostications justified by either historical analogies or the logical deductions to be drawn from present day conditions.

The reverend father blinks at the use of the word "Erse." It is immaterial; but its use is sanctioned by eminent authorities including Professor Mahaffy, Ernest Rhys and Dr. Douglas Hyde.

Errancy in spelling the name of an Irish chief or in ethnological classification in no wise affects the conclusion which we expressed. The ancient bards differ as to the spelling of the name of the legendary hero variously called Fionn, Finn, Fingal, MacCumhail, MacCoul, McCool, son of Cool (the ways of spelling are as many as blackthorns at Doneybrook), but there is no dispute as to his identity and the fact remains that his heroic deeds were performed in wars with his countrymen and that he fell in battle with them.

Ethnologists differ in classifying the Basques. The weight of modern opinion is that they are not Celts, though they were formerly classed as such. The ancient inhabitants of Spain were undoubtedly mainly of Celtic stock and some ethnologists classify the Tuaregs of Northern Africa among the Celtic tribes. This is of no consequence, however as determining the future of the Gaelic language. Father York unconsciously strengthens the view expressed by THE TRIBUNE when he mentions the fact that the last person who spoke Cornish died in the eighteenth century and that the Channel Islanders have spoken French for centuries. The inhabitants of Cornwall and the Channel Islands are nevertheless Celts in the main, though they have been largely fused with other races, as indeed have the Irish, Scots and Welsh.

Celtic devotion to religious faith is marvellous in its enduring quality, but it does not vitiate the statement that the Celtic people have ever been prone to render fidelity to their clans rather than their nation and to give their allegiance to chiefs rather than principle. The term "principle" is here used in the sense in which it is employed in statecraft.

It was not our intention to minimize or apologize for the atrocities which have characterized English rule in Ireland, nor to deny that British tyranny did exert itself to the utmost to drive out the native vernacular. The effort would have been vain, however, but for the divisions and discordant elements of the Celts as a race. Race characteristics and tribal governments caused not only loss of independence but the Latinizing of the speech of the Gauls and the Iberians and the Saxon conquest over the Gaelic in the British Isles.

There is no analogy between the feudal system which extended all over Europe and the broken discordant elements of the Celtic nations. Unhappily civil wars have devastated every land, but civil wars in general differ in character from the tribal conflicts among the Celtic nations. The Celts fought among themselves for practically nothing and often for the love of fighting. On the same day Killecrankie was fought in Scotland and Newtown Butler in Ireland. Scots were arrayed against Scots and Irish against Irish in an English dynastic quarrel, in which religion unhappily figured. While Celts from Wales and Cornwall were harrying and cutting down the wretched unarmed fugitives from Vinegar Hill, Irish Celts were mauling Britain's "far flung battle line" in every other part of the world. In the Thirty Years war the Scottish regiments wore the flower of the troops led by Christian of Denmark and Bernard of Saxe Weimer, while the Irish battalions were the cream of Wallenstein's soldiery. Even in Tilly's famous "Iron-faces," the invincible infantry of Spain, there were Irish. The Celts have never stood together as a race. That is why only a few remnants of them in Ireland, the Scottish Highlands and on the coast of Brittany cling to the ancient speech.

Father York says a good third of the people of Ireland "knows the Gaelic language." We said only a small proportion of the poorest and most uneducated use it in everyday speech. No issue is raised here. Many scholars, poets, antiquarians and race idealists are familiar with the language, and the agitation they have promoted has revived interest in Celtic literature and the medium of its expression, but this interest is more sentimental than practical. It has preserved Celtic literature and traditional history, however. But it takes a sanguine temperament indeed to believe the Gaelic can ever displace English in Ireland even. As well might one expect to see the knights gather again at the Round Table and tilt in King Arthur's court, or quest anew for the Holy Grail, as to hear again the Celtic nations speaking the language of their forebears. There is no physical resistance to the revival, no desire to discourage it, but the project is as unreal as the spirit that Fingal battled with at Lodi.

According to the Diary of the Roman Curia, the official record of the proceedings of the Sacred Conclave, Cardinal Rampolla led in the balloting up to the last scrutiny and failed of election by only two votes. On the fourth scrutiny the vote stood Cardinal Rampolla 30, Cardinal Sarto 24, Cardinal Gotti 3, others 5; total, 62. On the fifth scrutiny Cardinal Rampolla lost three votes to Cardinal Gotti while Cardinal Sarto held his strength. The sixth and last scrutiny showed 35 votes for Cardinal Sarto, whose election was then proclaimed. This record strongly indicates that the attitude of the Emperor of Austria alone prevented Cardinal Rampolla from ascending the throne of St. Peter.

The Ventura Free Press boasts that in recent years the small county of Ventura has sent two Congressmen and one Senator to Washington. The Congressmen were William Vandever and Marion Cannon and the Senator Thomas R. Bard. The list is only imposing in point of numbers. On the score of ability the exhibit is what a Missourian would size up as "just to'able."

WHITNEY GOES UNDER THE KNIFE. NEW YORK, February 1.—William C. Whitney, former Secretary of the Navy, has undergone an operation for appendicitis. At his Fifth-avenue home it is said he is doing as well as could be expected after the shock which is always consequent on this operation, however skillfully performed.

Mr. Whitney was stricken on Friday. His ailment was at once diagnosed as appendicitis. Immediate operation was decided upon, when, after a night of pain, the symptoms began to alarm. The patient rallied in a manner satisfactory to the physicians after the influence of anæsthetic had passed.

Mr. Whitney's illness was so sudden and developed so rapidly that his condition was not generally known. Only members of his family and a few intimate friends had knowledge of the operation. The illness had its beginning in a cold he contracted while heading a band of fire-fighters which extinguished a blaze on a place adjoining his South Carolina estate two weeks ago.

"JO-JO" IS DEAD. NEW YORK, February 1.—Theodore Peteroff, the dog-faced man, known by the sobriquet of "Jo-Jo," exhibited in most countries of the world, is dead here from pneumonia, says a Herald dispatch from Salonica, Turkey.

Peteroff attracted much attention in the United States, where he was exhibited twenty years ago by a well known circus proprietor.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a box with you for occasional use.

A month or so ago, Mr. Northey went to Santa Clara and resumed the acquaintance of his deceased wife's nurse and the wedding will be the result.

NEW EXCHANGE BEGINS BUSINESS.

OMAHA, February 1.—The Omaha Grain Exchange began business today. A hundred brokers were gathered on the floor and listened to a brief address by President Wattles, who appealed to the grainmen and brokers to deal fairly with the public, expressing his faith in the exchange. He sounded the gong and himself offered the first lot of grain for sale. He sold 500 bushels of May corn at 40 cents, at the same moment declaring the exchange open for business. The receipts of grain were good, seventy-five cars of corn being received during the day. The early trading was rapid and the corn market had a range of 1½ cents during the first half hour.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Uncle Sam Has Dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are a Positive and Permanent Cure for the National Disease.

As a people we eat too much and the wrong kind of food. Because it tastes good we crowd the stomach with rich, unwholesome food and drink. We overtax the digestive apparatus to such an extent that it refuses to perform its duty and a conglomerate mass of half-chewed, undigested material lies in the stomach until it rots, causing the formation of acids, gases and poisons which produce the painful condition which we know as dyspepsia.

of the digestion. A weak stomach weakens and impoverishes the system, making it easy for disease to gain a foothold.

Nobody need fear consumption, kidney disease, liver trouble or a weak heart and nervous system as long as the digestion is good and the stomach able to assimilate plenty of wholesome food.

Thousands have some form of stomach trouble and do not know it. They ascribe the headache, the languor, nervousness, insomnia, palpitation, constipation and similar symptoms to some other cause than the true one. Get your digestion on the right track and the heart trouble, lung trouble, liver disease or nervous debility will rapidly disappear.

Nothing is more certain than that the use of so-called tonics, stimulants and medicines, which depend upon alcohol for their effect, is injurious to health in the long run.

Many liquid patent medicines derive their effect entirely from the alcohol they contain.

Alcohol and medicines containing it are temporary stimulants and not in any sense a true tonic. In fact, it is doubtful if any medicine or drug is a real tonic.

A true tonic is something which will renew, replenish, build up the exhausted nervous system and wasted tissues of the body; something that will enrich the blood and endow it with the proper proportions of red and white corpuscles which prevent or destroy disease germs. This is what a real tonic should do and no drug or alcohol-stimulant will do it.

The only true tonic in nature is wholesome food, thoroughly digested. Every particle of nervous energy, every minute muscle, fiber and drop of blood is created daily from the food we digest.

The mere eating of food has little to do with the repair of waste tissue, but the perfect digestion of the food eaten has everything to do with it.

The reason so few people have perfect digestion is because from wrong habits of living the stomach has gradually lost the power to secrete the gastric juice, pepsin and acids in sufficient quantity.

To cure indigestion and stomach troubles it is necessary to take some harmless preparation which will supply the natural pepsin and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and probably the best preparation of this character is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found in every drug store and which contain in pleasant, palatable form the whole-some pepsin and diastase which nature requires for prompt digestion.

One or two of these excellent tablets taken after meals will prevent souring, fermentation and acidity and insure complete digestion and assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are as equally valuable for little children as for adults, as they contain nothing harmful or stimulating but only the natural digestives.

One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 100 grains of meat, eggs or other wholesome food, and they are in every sense a genuine tonic because they bring about in the only natural way a restoration of nerve power, a building up of lost tissue and appetite, in the only way it can be done by the digestion and assimilation of wholesome food.

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, and the food will give you a chance to recuperate, and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a nervous, irritable, insatiable craving for food. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of good and wholesome Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and stimulants.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market for many years, yet you will find every drug store in the United States, Canada and Great Britain, now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

For business men, office men and clerks, and to feed everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables, with a moderate meat allowance, are much more healthful than a heavy meat diet.

Only men engaged in severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

It is a well-established truth that nine-tenths of all diseases originate with a breaking down

GIVEN PLEASANT SURPRISE.

LEADER OF PLEASANTON CHURCH CHOIR HONORED BY HER FRIENDS.

PLEASANTON, FEBRUARY 1.—A pleasant surprise and well-earned out was given Mrs. E. L. Benedict Saturday evening by members and friends of the church choir here. She has done a great deal towards holding the choir together and in her position as leader her efforts have been untiring.

After the usual practice Saturday evening, the doors leading in to the Sunday school room were thrown open and Mrs. Benedict was led into the room by a throng of her friends who had prepared a collation in her honor. A pleasant hour was spent and in a few appropriate remarks Mrs. Benedict expressed her appreciation of the feeling which had prompted what had been done for her.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Mrs. Renaud Clark had a narrow escape from being killed Sunday evening as she was returning from Livermore on the 6:30 train. Being an old lady and very lame, she was slow in getting off the train and it started before she was off, and only for a bystander who caught her as she fell, she would have been killed. Her dress skirt was run over and torn. She was badly shaken and so frightened she fainted before she was taken to her home. If she had got off on the side where the depot was, she would have been helped off by the

Winter Eczema

Winter Eczema, sometimes called Dry Eczema, or Tetter, is one of the severest forms of this most torturing and aggravating of all skin diseases. As cold weather approaches the skin thickens and hardens, cracks and bleeds, and in bad cases crusts and sores form and the parts affected become intensely painful, tender and swollen. The itching, burning and smarting is so terrific at times that the sufferer is made almost desperate, and the nerves are so unstrung that sleep is impossible. Like all other skin-torturing diseases, Winter Eczema is caused by acids circulating in the blood, and while soothing applications are helpful, no lasting benefit can come from external treatment. The disease is in the blood; the entire system is saturated with the poison and the blood aflame with the fiery acids, and only a remedy that enters into the circulation and destroys the poisons will afford lasting relief from the tortments of Eczema. S. S. S. has no equal as a blood medicine, and has become the most widely-known and popular blood purifier on the market. If you have Eczema or any skin trouble originating from bad blood, you will find that S. S. S. acts promptly, purifying the blood and building up the general health. SERMON BY THE PERILS OF THE STREET.

PREACHES ON "THE INSOLENT REFUSAL OF JUSTICE." REV. T. A. BOYER PREACHES FIRST OF SERIES OF SERMONS.

Rev. Charles R. Brown, of the First Congregational Church, preached last night upon "The Insolent Refusal of Justice," the third sermon in his series on "The Story of an Ancient Labor Movement."

In part he said: "The appeal made by Moses, the deliverer, was reasonable and right. It was a word of the Lord—'Let my people go that they may serve me.' He called upon an industrial system which was unjust and degrading to let the people go that they might fulfill God's purpose in creating them, by living human lives, by maintaining homes worthy of the name, by enjoying the social and spiritual privileges that belong to normal existence."

"You recall the heartless, insolent answer that came back: 'Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice and let Israel go?' The refusal betrayed the contempt Pharaoh and the ruling classes felt for the real interests of those on whose patient shoulders rested the system that supported them in luxury. The cruelty of it was inhuman; and the contempt for divine ideals and divine purposes was open blasphemy."

The same note of inhumanity is also heard in modern life. Sometimes it falls from the lips of the indifferent; sometimes it is embodied in a wage scale; sometimes it finds its utterance in a whole system of manufacturing that works injury to the helpless."

"In the Southern cotton mills, John Graham Brooks saw troops of children, some of them under twelve, dragged from their beds to be hurried with weary bodies and sleepy eyes into the mill, to breathe cotton waste and wear themselves out amid the roar of loom and spinner. One year ago when the coal strike was on at the beginning of winter and the high price of coal had carried it out of the reach of the poor, many of the helpless people of Chicago and New York were cooking their bit of food on oil stoves and doing their best by the aid of these little stoves to keep out the frost, then it was that the great 'philanthropist,' John D. Rockefeller, raised the price of coal oil several cents per gallon and celebrated the profits it brought by the gift of another million to Chicago University."

"In the east end of London, where more than half a million people live habitually on the edge of starvation, with the fortunate of England hold thousands of its fertile acres for private parks and game preserves—land which the struggling might cultivate and produce bread for themselves and their families. How can 400,000 of them enter their names in the census of 'no occupation,' lazily taking their pleasure while their brothers starve? Is it the same moral indifference and insolent contempt for the helpless which sounded in Pharaoh's reply, 'Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice to let these wretched people in their struggle?'"

"I know not the Lord," the haughty monarch said. It was all too true. He knew not the Lord who speaks in the terms of social conditions and makes his appeal through those wretched lives that are doomed to failure by the hard condition of their lot. And as sure as God reigns, that inhumanity, which knows not the Lord, will be brought to its day of judgment and will hear its sentence in the words of Christ, 'I never knew you. Inasmuch as ye did it not to the least of these, ye did it not to me. Depart from me into the punishment prepared for the devil and his angels.'"

"We need more and more in the

The courts may be appealed to settle the present differences in the Christian Science Church, resultant from the aspirations of First Reader Stetson, whose supporters hold guard at the church against the Edgelys, who are jealous of impeaching the First Reader. This church was built through the efforts of Mrs. Stetson. It is said that members of the church in good standing are dejected and alienated because they are inimical to Mrs. Stetson.

face of the increasing attractions and seductiveness of our city streets, careful restraint, wise legislation, useful occupation, put over and above all we need the restraining and conserving power of a Christian man and womanhood. Men and women like Daniel in Babylon; men who are kept from the contamination from without by the power of a religious life within."

CHOIR GUILD TO ENTERTAIN.

The Choir Guild of the Church of the Advent, East Oakland, is making extensive preparation for a novel entertainment in aid of the music fund of the church. The evening of February 6th has been chosen for the production, and it will be held in Washington Hall on East Twelfth street.

A musical program will be rendered numbers by Miss Florence Ellen Dyer, Mr. Alfred C. Read, Mr. Edward O'Brien and others.

Following these numbers will be an amusing farce entitled "Widow Cobb's Party," a satirical representation of a country dance in New England in 1830. Old fashioned songs and dances will be features of this farce, and the village choir, aided by Tom Finkler Combs, will furnish quaint harmonies.

The cast includes the following: Mary Jane, Miss Edith Swain, The Widow Cobb, Miss Gertrude Solomon, Margery, the widow's daughter, Miss Elsie Nora Solomon, Aunt Samantha, Miss Corinne Johnson.

Maidens—Miss Maud Wilkins; Sally, Mrs. Elliot B. Davis; Susan, Miss Sara Swain; Polly, Mrs. George Jamieson; Polly, Mrs. Wm. C. Shaw; Harriet, Miss Dolly Solomon.

Men—William, Mr. Norman Ellis; Jeremiah, Mr. Elliot B. Davis; David, Mr. John Combs; Jonathan, Mr. Fritz Williams; Jerry, Mr. William Wagner; Hiram, Mr. Mosley; John, the widow's son, Mr. George Jamieson.

Village Choir—Miss Nina Harland, organist; Miss Edith Swain, alto; Miss Florence Swain, soprano; Mr. Norman Ellis, tenor; Mr. Mosley, bass.

No Missourian ever imagined that the State's statutes for the punishment of hoodlums were so utterly worthless until the Supreme Court began to pass on them.—Kansas City Journal.

CAP AND GOWN WON THE OAKS.

Favorites Had a Bad Day and Did Not Win a Single Race—Glorious Form Reversals.

Cap and Gown, who was started here for the first time, captured the California Oaks at the Oakland track Saturday by a length from Anirad with the favorite, Miss Betty, third. The winner is a Kentucky bred filly, and was secured by Dr. Rowell, her present owner and trainer, at St. Louis. She had worked the Oaks route, one and one-eighth miles, in 1:55, which was the time made in the race Saturday. Ten misses of moderate class were added up for the event, Wistaria being an added starter. There was not very much line on the starters, but for some reason or other Miss Betty was made favorite, with Dunganon second choice. Cap and Gown and Red Cross Nurse were accorded some support at 6 to 1. The field was dispatched with a delay of but one minute, Silent Water setting the pace. She was followed past the stand by Red Cross Nurse and Ethel Abbott.

ST. MARY'S TEAM WINS.
Last Saturday the Phoenix team of St. Mary's College, Longwood, Palo Alto and defeated the Stanford Varsity nine. The Cardinal nuns were no match for the Oakland collegians. The latter out-batted and outfielded their opponents all through the game. The college pitcher, Ferguson, had the varsity men completely at his mercy. He struck out eleven and allowed but five scattered hits. The Stanford team would have been shut out. He was supported by perfect fielding. Next Saturday the Phoenix will play the University of California.

TIE GAME PLAYED AT ALAMEDA.

The Pickwicks and Occidentals association football teams met on the Webster street grounds in Alameda yesterday afternoon and the result was a tie, each team securing two goals. The game was well contested and towards the close it was exciting when, with the score 2 to 1 against them, Occidentals made a determined rush and managed to shoot a goal and tie the score less than a minute before the whistle blowing the game.
The Pickwicks excelled at individual playing while the Occidentals were superior at team work. The former team tried hard to win but were prevented by the excellent team work of their opponents, who thwarted many a hard rush. Cowan of the Pickwicks was the star of his team, scoring the second goal while Roberts, who scored the first one, was a close second in the matter of brilliancy.
Following was the line-up:

CHILDREN ENTERTAINED.

The graphophone entertainment given at the Boys' Retreat, Saturday, last, was well attended by an appreciative young audience. The girls were entertained in the afternoon at three o'clock and the boys in the evening. The girls were given the freedom of the club before and after the entertainment which they thoroughly enjoyed. Many of them went through with the athletic exercise as easily as the boys who have been members of the club for the past three years.
Another graphophone entertainment will be given in Hamilton Hall, corner Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, Saturday, February 27, at 2:30 p. m. The program will be especially suited for children.

BOXERS PUT UP PRACTICE ON THE RANGES.

AL NEILL AND DIXIE KID POST SHELL MOUND CLUB SPENDS PLEASANT DAY AT THE PARK.

The coming match between the Dixie Kid and Al Neill, which is to take place at the Sequoia Club's arena on the night of February 9th, is attracting considerable attention among the sports and a good contest is looked for. The men have been in a live training the past few days and both are rounding into excellent shape, and by right time both will be in as good fix as a fighter could hope to be. Biddy Bishop does not propose to have any hitch in this meeting between these two boxers, and to avoid against either not appearing he has made both men place a forfeit with Harry Corbett.
"Before I let you boys sign these articles I must insist that each of you place a forfeit with Harry Corbett to guarantee your appearance in the ring on the night of the contest," said Bishop when he sat down to talk business to the fighters.
"How much of a forfeit, do you want?" asked Neill.
"Each one of you must put up $150 in cash and no checks will go either," responded the club manager.
Thereupon the fighters dug up their cash and it is now safely stored away in Harry Corbett's safe, so there is no chance for either to disavow the contest. If the club had been as strict in making the last match between these two as Bishop has been in this occasion the men would not have disappointed the sports as they did before. With this assurance that the men will positively appear a rattling good bout may be looked for.
Bishop will arrange a couple of attractive preliminaries to precede the main event and he promises to put on the best men that money can engage.

BASEBALL MAGNATES TO CONFER.

BASEBALL LEADERS FROM EAST NOW IN SAN FRANCISCO.

This evening here will be a big row in San Francisco between the big chiefs of the baseball world, James A. Hart, president of the Chicago Baseball League; Ban Johnson, president of the American Association, and Edward Hase, manager of the Brooklyn team and representing the Association of minor leagues, have arrived in San Francisco for the purpose of conferring with those who direct the affairs of the Pacific Coast League.

These men, leaders in Eastern baseball, have traveled all the way across the continent to induce the little "outlaw" league to join the fold and enjoy the bliss of the protecting arm of the association. Whether their invitation will be accepted or not will not be known until after the conference is ended, but it is safe to say that the Coast League will join if their terms are accepted.
The men who will confer with the noted envoys of Henry Harlow, James Morley and Eugene Bert and they will insist on certain conditions, which if granted will induce the Coast League into the National fold.
The conditions that will be exacted are second to none but the National League and the American Association, and will permit them (the coast people) to treat on the minor leagues the same as the big organizations do.
Efforts were made last year to get the Coast League to join the association, but the Eastern magnates preferred war to granting the terms asked and war was won. The result is that for the Easterners and they have sought another conference. The Coast League is in a position to dictate and it is the people want them in the association, they will have to meet the demands.
The result of the conference will be watched with interest, especially by baseball players. The latter do not want the Coast League to join for they know that it will to the death of their own, which they are now able to demand on the penalty of "going West to play."

ROVERS DEFEATED BY VAMPIRES.

GOOD GAME OF FOOTBALL PLAY-ED AT IDORA PARK.

A splendid game of association football was played at Idora Park yesterday between the Vampires and the Albion Rovers, in which the Vampires were victorious by the score of three goals to one. The game was a hard-fought one from beginning to end. Before the first game, the Hornets and Mustangs played a friendly game, which did not result in the league standing and it was won by the Thistles by the score of 2 to 1.
The league game between the Rovers and the Vampires was one between perfect team work on one side and sheer individual playing on the other. As usual, team work won out. There was no scoring done until near the end of the first half when Shawell succeeded in shooting the ball into the center of the net. Two minutes later Wilding repeated the performance and the half ended with the score 2 to 0 against the Rovers.
In the second half, the local team played better football and held their opponents down to but one goal and scored one themselves. The Rovers started the second half with a determination that looked like it would win the game for them. After Bradley had shot one goal and missed the other, the termination seemed to wane and the Vampires more than held their own. Following was the line-up:
Score—Vampires, 3; Albion, 1. Goals—Shawell, 1; Wilding, 1; Erskine, 1. Bradley, 1. Umpire—Irish; Linesmen—Smith, Michael. Time of halves, forty-five minutes.

FOR SICK AND NEEDY.

A musical benefit for the "Sick and Needy Chapter" of St. John's Church, to be given in Reed Hall tomorrow evening, is interesting the many friends of this organization. A large number of ladies have given their time and talents towards making it a success with the hope that it will result in harvesting material aid for the cause for which it is arranged.
